There's a celestial event on the horizon that has captured the imagination of astronomers and adventurers alike—the 2024 Total Solar Eclipse. This rare phenomenon will cast its shadow across the United States on April 8, with the Metroplex finding itself in the path of totality. A total solar eclipse happens when the moon passes between the sun and Earth, completely blocking the face of the sun. The sky will become dark, as if it were dawn or dusk and this phenomenon will not be visible from the contiguous United States again until 2044.

The entire duration of the complete phase of the eclipse will last for just over 2.5 hours, beginning at 12:23PM CDT until complete totality starting at 1:40PM CDT and lasting for a whooping 3 minutes and 51 seconds! Prepare to be mesmerized as the moon aligns with the sun, offering an awe-inspiring spectacle that promises to leave a lasting impression!
