

2100 ROSS AVENUE

Sales Tax Holiday:

August 9-11

During this annual sales tax holiday, you can buy most clothing, footwear, school supplies and backpacks (sold for less than $100) tax free from a Texas store or from an online or catalog seller doing business in Texas. In most cases, you do not need to give the seller an exemption certificate to buy qualifying items tax free. This year's sales tax holiday begins Friday, August 9, and goes through midnight Sunday, August 11. The sales tax exemption applies only to qualifying items you buy during the sales tax holiday. Items you buy before or after the sales tax holiday do not qualify for exemption, and there is no tax refund available. For more information, visit www.TexasTaxHoliday.org.

Fifth Annual Party on the Porch

September 14, 10am-10pm

Amon Carter Museum of American Art
Party on the Porch, the Amon Carter Museum of American Art's annual music and arts festival, returns for another year to celebrate the reopening of the recently renovated museum during a day filled with live music, art, activities, and more. This free event will be an all-day experience with art-making, extended gallery hours, and live music.

Partygoers will be able to enjoy the musical stylings of local Texas groups The Band of Heathens and Fort Worth musician Abraham Alexander. Throughout the day, a variety of free creative experiences will be offered including exploring their new galleries, connecting with the Carter's collection through hands-on activities, and dropping by the new interactive Family Pop-up Space in The Lounge. Five exhibitions, in addition to the new permanent collection galleries, will open to the public at 10am. There will be a wide array of local food trucks with dining and beverage options available for purchase. Will Rogers Road will be closed between Lancaster Avenue and Camp Bowie Boulevard from 8am to 10pm on the day of the event. For more information, visit www.cartermuseum.org.

Perot Museum: NEW SPECIES OF FOSSIL CROCODILE NAMED FOR LONG-TIME VOLUNTEER IS A 'LITTLE NIPPER' OF A BIG DISCOVERY

A new species of prehistoric crocodylian ancestor (that existed in what is now North Texas, but 96 million years ago) has been named Scolomastax sahlsteini after Arthur Sahlstein, a volunteer citizen scientist that assisted in its discovery at the Arlington Archosaur Site. The "little nipper," which was 3-6 feet long, lived in the last period of the Age of Dinosaurs, and co-existed with several other species of crocodyliform (extinct crocodile relative) as well as newly discovered species of dinosaurs, mammals, plants, fish and more. Due to its "weird" jaw, scientists studying its fossils believe the extinct reptile may have been an omnivore feasting on hard prey and plant life, which would differ greatly from any of its modern obligate-carnivorous ancestors alive today. The fossils of S. sahlsteini are now part of the permanent collection of the Perot Museum of Nature and Science. Dallas Arboretum

Special $2 Admission for August Dollar Days - An Additional $2 for Admittance to the Rory Meyers Children's Adventure Garden

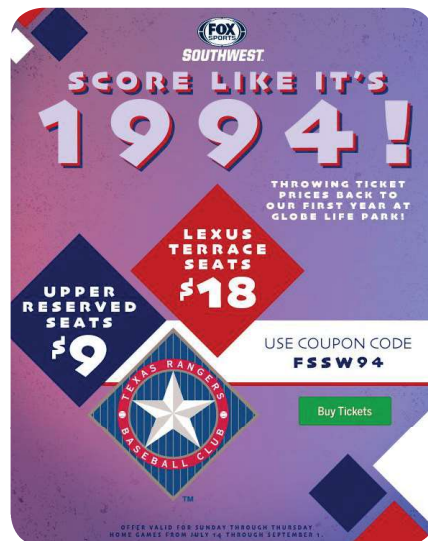

The drawn out sun-drenched days of summer bring in August Dollar Days. Named one of the "50 destinations everyone wants to visit in the U.S. this summer," by Business Insider, the Dallas Arboretum offers $2 general garden admission, $5 for parking, and $2 admission into the Rory Meyers Children's Adventure Garden for the month of August. The many floral beds are bursting with impatiens, lobelias, begonias, salvia, marigolds, zinnias, caladiums, lantana, cannas, vinca and pentas.

Dollar Days food includes $1 sodas, juice and frozen pops, $2 root beer floats and hot dogs, and $4 brownie sundaes. Now through October 15, a highlight of Summer at the Arboretum is, "Celebrate the Children," an art exhibition designed and created by Gary Lee Price, displayed throughout the gardens. Ranging from two feet to seven feet, these beautiful, handcrafted bronze sculptures of children create the perfect photo opportunity for visitors. The exhibition is presented by Reliant and supported by the Dallas Tourism Public Improvement District.

August Dollar Day tickets are available for purchase only at the gate. Parking is available for a discounted $5 per vehicle. For more information on August Dollar Days and other daily activities, call 214.515.6500 or visit www.dallasarboretum.org/events-activities/summer-at-the-arboretum/. During other months, you may contact your concierge for discounted general admission tickets.

2019 Restaurant Week

Preview: August 2-4

Extensions: August 18 – September 2

Mark your calendar for North Texas' largest foodie fundraiser, the 22nd Annual DFW Restaurant Week launches August 5 with nearly a month of dining supporting charity partners the North Texas Food Bank and Lena Pope.

DELECTABLE DETAILS

DFW Restaurant Week officially begins the week of Aug. 5-11, with most restaurants extending participation for additional weeks — through Aug. 18, Aug. 25, or Labor Day, Sept. 2. Select restaurants also offer a head start on the dining with Preview Weekend, Aug. 2-4. DFW Restaurant Week features three-course prix fixe dinners for either $39 or $49 and two-course lunches for just $25, with 20 percent donated to the North Texas Food Bank (Dallas, Collin and Denton counties) and Lena Pope (Tarrant County).

DFW RESTAURANT WEEK SPECIALTY BITES

Returning for a second year, casual dining restaurants will join in the campaign with DFW Restaurant Week Specialty Bites. Whether a specialty sandwich or other signature dish, participating restaurants will offer a unique custom-created menu item with 10 percent of the price donated to one of the charity partners.

DFW RESTAURANT WEEK KICK-OFF PARTY

Help launch the foodie fun with the DFW Restaurant Week Kick-Off Party at Crockett Row at West 7th in Fort Worth. Enjoy an outdoor evening of music, exclusive craft cocktails, wine sampling, and tasty bites from the best and upcoming restaurants in the area.

Reservations open now! Book online at OpenTable.com, or contact restaurants directly. Be sure to specify that the reservation is for DFW Restaurant Week when booking your reservation, and don't forget to ask for the DFW Restaurant Week menu when you arrive! For more information, visit www.dfwrestaurantweek.com.
